To whom it may concern,

Commnet Wireless is a small rural wireless telephone and broadband company. We own and operate nearly 500 tower locations in the western United States. Through my career, I have had the ability to work with many construction companies. We have been working with Rich Williams and his company NNE for about 2 years. They have been the winning bidder for most of our Nevada Market's projects.

Rich and his company NNE was recommended to Commnet as a general contractor providing construction services in areas we started to cover for wireless communications infrastructure. When we received the recommendation, Commnet was told that NNE had superior work ability and covered many different areas in construction such as fiber/data, tower installation and maintenance, microwave and many other construction related work. Furthermore, NNE's ability to keep projects on time and within budget was also a notable factor.

Commnet has retained NNE for several projects and are pleased with the outstanding working relationship, knowledge of the industry, and the professionalism that he and his crew present to their customer.

Commnet continues to use NNE for many of our maintenance projects and tower construction. NNE's prices are consistently lower than most general contractors and the work product has always been superior.

I recommend Rich Williams and NNE for general construction, routine maintenance and trouble shooting.

Regards,

Mark Hansen
